

Perfectly Chic
Cate Blanchett
Can Do
No Wrong

Gucci's
New Boy
Wonder

*Miami's
New Emperor*

Hollywood's
New Rebels

The Art of Fashion

CLAUDIA'S JEWELRY BOX

Wild Harvest
WHAT W'S JEWELRY AND ACCESSORIES DIRECTOR,
CLAUDIA MATA, IS FANTASIZING ABOUT.

1. "Whenever I'm asked to suggest a jewelry gift, I recommend stone drop earrings. With their pops of color (in this case, via amethyst, garnet, and emerald), they work on everyone." (From left: Mishi, $8,400, mishinewyork.com; line Niswiler, price upon request, www.niswiler.com; ryanroose, sea-cool-2000; Annati Sarkisyan, $4,690, capitolcharlotte.com).
2. "Charm necklaces are perfect for the long haul—they only get better as you add to them over time." (From left: Carolina Buccì, price upon request, by special order, Bergdorf Goodman, New York, 212.753.7300; Aurélie Bidermann, price upon request, Aurélie Bidermann, New York, 212.335.0604).
3. "I love a classic gentleman's ring for a woman, particularly when it's embellished with diamonds, emeralds, or a pink tourmaline." (Clockwise, from top left: Jemima Wynne, $7,350, ylang23.com; Jemima Wynne, $5,985, shoppingstone.com; KWH NYC, $4,200, kvhny.com; Dezzo by Sara Beltrán, $4,800, beltronline.com).

Photographs by GARDIELA FLORESDAZO/DEPINN. Styled by CLAUDIA MATA

PHOTO: GARDIELA FLORESDAZO/DEPINN